

SECOND FLANDERS ATTACK PROGRESSING

LA FOLLETTE SUMMONED BY COMMITTEE

Wisconsin Senator Will Be Quizzed by Senate Body Probing Speech

WILL BE ASKED TO EXPLAIN STATEMENTS

Investigators Not Concerned at This Time With Any Attacks on Him

Washington, Oct. 12.—Senator La Follette of Wisconsin today was invited by the senate investigating committee, investigating his speech at St. Paul, to appear next Tuesday before the committee for a hearing regarding assertions in his address.

The hearing probably will be public, and will be confined to the statement of facts in the speech, particularly regarding Mr. La Follette's statement that former President Wilson to keep passengers off the Lusitania because of munitions alleged to be in her cargo. The committee advised the senator that its investigating authority does not extend to his right to make the Nonpartisan speech nor to the motive of his critics.

To the letter sent to the committee yesterday by Senator La Follette asking a hearing and suggesting an extension of the investigation, Chairman Pomeroy today replied:

Replies to Letter.

"Referring to the request contained in your letter, the sub-committee begs to advise you that it does not concede that its powers extend to an inquiry into your right to make the speech delivered by you in St. Paul—that question being reserved by the full committee for its consideration—nor does it believe itself authorized to inquire into the motives or animus of those making attacks on you.

Afford Him an Opportunity. "The sub-committee desires, however, to afford you an opportunity to be heard, and to inform the committee with references to the accuracy of the various statements contained in the speech referred to, and to that end you are invited to attend the on going session of the committee at the capital next Tuesday."

Senator La Follette is expected to be the first witness on Tuesday and to submit much data toward substantiating his assertions. Other witnesses may be called later. The first question which the committee plans to investigate is the authority of La Follette for his statement regarding the Lusitania. The committee is awaiting a statement from Mr. Bryan regarding the incident. It has not been determined whether Mr. Bryan will be asked to appear.

Greece With American Aid Can Blast Germany's Dream and End Deadlock

100 PER CENT PATRIOTS WILL HOLD MEETING

Former Congressman Nye Will Talk on Issues of World War

BIG DINNER SCHEDULED AFTER THE PROGRAM

Issues of the war as they affect the home guard have never been generally discussed publicly in Bismarck since the war involved the United States. An exceptional opportunity is afforded for such a discussion in the patriotic rally planned for tomorrow evening at the Auditorium. H. P. Goddard, president of the Commercial club, who is heading the liberty loan drive in the county, will preside, and former Congressman F. M. Nye, one of the best speakers in the northwest, will discuss Americanism in relation to the world war.

This meeting will be attended by the city and county committees who have in charge the sale of liberty bonds for Burleigh county. Those interested in Red Cross work and other war activities will be there. Patriotic music will be a feature and seldom has there been afforded an opportunity for the people of Bismarck and the Slope to join in a 100 per cent patriotic gathering of Americans whose only thought is the welfare of the government and the wholehearted support of the national administration in coping with a crisis second to none in the history of the republic.

Following the meeting the county committee commissioned to handle the sale of liberty bonds will go to the McKenzie hotel and at a dinner scheduled for 10:50 p. m., put the finishing touches on the big drive which will start Monday morning.

Mr. Goddard and O. N. Dunham are making South Slope points today in the interest of the liberty loan.

Rev. George Buzzelle of St. George's Episcopal church will speak in Linton tonight (Saturday) and Wilton Monday night and Regan Tuesday night. In the interest of the loan drive, the Tribune published yesterday the names of the men who will have charge of the sale in the county. Mr. Goddard today gave to the press the personnel of the county committee. It follows:

Menoken—A. T. Welch
McKenzie—P. P. Bliss, Harry O'Neil and William Hughes

George Roussos, New Minister of United States, Brings Message to America

BALKAN KINGDOM HAS 370,000 TRAINED MEN

All That Is Lacking Now Is the Guns and the Ammunition to Arm Them

By L. HARPER LEECH.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—"Greece can end the war's deadlock and force a decision in the Balkan states."

So says George Roussos, minister just sent by the new Venzelist government to Greece to the United States.

With American aid in munitions, grain and coal, Greece can cut the proposed pan-German empire in twain.

"To end the war in accordance with President Wilson's ideals, the Balkan problem must be settled on a basis of democracy and self government of its national and racial units."

"Greece-American co-operation to destroy the Hohenzollern scheme of world domination at its crucial point would blend the missions of the two democracies in a supreme work of history."

Thus spoke the official representative in America of the party that kicked the pro-German king of Greece from his throne and brought to power the Cretan democrat, Eleutherios Venizelos.

It was his first interview and given exclusively to The Tribune.

"Our country, like America, is peaceful and democratic," said Roussos.

"We have no professional military caste. We are a nation of small land owners, farmers, merchants, traders and workmen. There was never a native Greek feudalism and when we banished the Turk we banished his system with him, resuming our former democratic status."

"Greece has no titled nobility and her monarchy was a constitutional social institution like that of Britain, until ex-King Constantine betrayed the country to the Hohenzollerns and attempted to make Greece a vassal state of the Hohenzollern empire."

Discussing the military situation the new minister pointed out that a new Greek army in the field would entirely alter the situation.

"On the Salonika front for many months a balance has existed, neither side being able to make any real advances. Teutonic Bulgar armies on that front can expect no aid from anywhere else. Turkey is fully occupied and losing herself in Asia. Bulgaria has extended herself to the limit. Germany and Austria-Hungary have in constantly pressing business elsewhere. A Greek army of 250,000 men would insure the allied advance to Sofia and the cutting of the railroad to Constantinople."

"Greece has men in abundance. Regulars and reserves now available number over 370,000, most of them veterans of the Balkan wars."

"All that is lacking is the guns and ammunition—with fuel and food. This unarmed condition was deliberately brought about by King Constantine, who mobilized the Greek army in 1915 for the purpose of using up all its equipment in shoes and clothing, of exhausting its ammunition supplies in target practice and wearing-out its cannon and rifles."

He dared not declare war on the allies because the army would not have stood for it.

"Since the new government has taken charge, it has found that Constantine and his German accomplice made Greece one great submarine base. When Constantine left Greece the submarines largely left the eastern Mediterranean, because they could no longer get supplies. Sinkings in Greek waters are hardly ever heard of now. When Constantine was in Athens they occurred daily."

Minneapolis Girl Takes Job Heroes Deserted for War

Militant Disposition of Male Legislators Demands Change

Miss Charlotte Matson of Minneapolis, a graduate of the New York public library school, who for the last two years had been employed by the Minneapolis branch public library, in a capacity which made her familiar with legislative reference work, this week assumed the post of legislative reference librarian with the North Dakota public library commission. Miss Matson is the first young woman to hold this important position in North Dakota. The two young men last preceding her are both on duty on the French front, one with the quarter-master department and the other in the ambulance corps.

RAILROADS MAY ASK CONGRESS FOR CAPITAL

Need Money Badly to Provide New Facilities to Handle Traffic

ROADS CLAIM EXPENSE EATS UP EARNINGS

Erotherhoods' Demands for More Wages to Start Agitation

Washington, Oct. 12.—Reports that the railroads are considering informally asking the government to help them obtain money with which to cope with the high tide of traffic are regarded by officials here as forecasting a concerted move soon toward that end.

What form this move will assume, apparently has not been decided, although it is reported the roads have under consideration several courses. One is to request the government to lend the railroads money on railroad securities, for which special legislation would be necessary.

Expenses Increase. Railroads at present are earning very nearly as much as last year, which marked the high tide, but within the last two months operating expenses have shown an increase, said to be out of all proportion to the increase in gross receipts. Railroad executives say that as the government has a practical monopoly through liberty bond issues of the investment funds of the country, they have found it almost impossible to obtain funds.

WANT RATE INCREASES. New York, Oct. 12.—Coinciding with the announcement yesterday that passenger trainmen on eastern railroads would shortly present demands for increased wages, executives of eastern trunk lines arranged to meet in New York today, and discuss plans for making another plea for the interstate commerce commission for higher freight rates. The new demands of the brotherhoods for more pay will be a factor in the roads' petition, it was said. The eastern railroads hope that the western and southern railroads will also renew pleas for higher rates.

WANT WILSON TO VISIT EUROPE

Paris, Oct. 12.—The suggestion that President Wilson visit Europe was made today by the committee in its leading editorial. The allies need the president's counsel, it said, his influence would be powerful in establishing unity in regard to democratic ideals, and that such a visit would be of advantage also to America.

LIBERTY LOAN SUBSCRIPTIONS $325,465,000

Only Through Strenuous Action Until October 27 Can Goal Be Reached

HURRY UP CALL SENT TO ALL SALESMEN

Camp Grant Soldiers Take $222,550 of Bonds to Help Fight Enemy

Washington, Oct. 12.—Only by the most strenuous campaign during the next thirteen days, the treasury department announced today, can the liberty loan reach the subscription goal officials are hoping for. "Revelations in official reports from a federal reserve banks that only $325,465,000 in subscriptions had been reported to them," reads the announcement, "caused the committee chairman to send out hurry calls to their salesmen today. This is less than 7 per cent of the total $5,000,000,000 subscriptions it is hoped by Secretary McAdoo will be rolled up by October 27."

Need Quick Action. "Only by the most strenuous campaigning it is realized, can the desired goal be reached in the remaining thirteen days."

SOLDIERS SUBSCRIBE.

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 12.—The 243rd infantry at Camp Grant today subscribed $222,550 to the liberty loan. More than 81 per cent of all the men in the regiment purchased one or more bonds. At division headquarters, it was announced that this is the record subscription, both for Camp Grant and the national army to date.

26 Red Light Houses Near Camp Stanley

Military Officials Serve Notice on Town to Clean Up Conditions at Once

LISTS FURNISHED WHEN LOCAL MAYOR DOUBTS

Washington, Oct. 12.—The war department today made public correspondence between Chairman Fosdick and Mayor Rogers of Lexington, Ky., in which the mayor acknowledged the committee's investigation of moral conditions around Camp Stanley disclosed a situation "simply horrible," and pledges his personal and official word that he will use every means in his power to "correct awful conditions that now exist."

When the situation was brought to the attention of Mayor Rogers by Chairman Fosdick on Sept. 12 the mayor replied the officials were unaware of a single disorderly house in the city. The training camp commission then sent agents, who discovered 26 disorderly houses in Lexington "all running in full bloom," and selling liquor to soldiers in direct violation of federal laws.

By J. HERBERT DUCKWORTH. Lowell, Mass., Oct. 12.—America now has a real girl "battalion of death," like Russia's willing to fight the Germans and face poison gas and liquid fire for their country. It is being drilled here in Lowell by Capt. Emma Le Clair, a twenty-year-old millworker. It is already nearly a strong unit. It is being encouraged by Mayor O'Donnel, and has the sanction of Major Gen. Ames of the Massachusetts State Guard and of the Public Safety committee of the state.

ALLIES' STEAM ROLLER PRESSES ENEMY'S LINES

General Haig Regardless of Bad Weather Is Following Up Recent Victories

FRESH DRIVE THIS MORNING NEAR YPRES

British Troops Along a Six Mile Front Are Pending Teuton Defensive

British Front in France and Belgium, Oct. 12.—At an early hour today the British troops, which began an attack in Flanders this morning, had penetrated several yards in to the enemy's trenches near Houtholst wood to a point below the Ypres-Roulers railway and were battling along the Paschendale ridge, within one thousand yards of the center of the village of Paschendale.

By 7:40 a. m., reports were received that everything was going well with the British attack in Flanders. The troops along a wide front had pushed forward to a depth averaging 800 yards or more.

The prisoners began to come in early, although slowly, owing to the condition of the ground.

Indications are that the Germans early were aware that trouble was impending. About 4 a. m. they fired a large number of gas shells along the British front.

The British steam roller "goes up" hill very slowly, but it is now going downhill and battles are following each other more and more rapidly. This statement was made yesterday by Major General F. B. Maurice, director of operations, at the British war office.

The truth of his assertion was driven home less than 24 hours after it was made, by the beginning of this morning of another British attack in Flanders. Only three days had elapsed since the last attack.

Tuesday's push was launched after a four day pause, the last previous drive having been carried out the preceding Thursday. Previously, intervals of a week or more had elapsed between the British attacks.

Good progress was reported early by Field Marshal Haig along the six mile front, northeast of Ypres, on which today's assault is being delivered. Apparently the objective is the remainder of the ridge commanding the Flanders plains, over the commanding points of which the British have passed and are driving downward.

Regardless of Weather. Another notable fact in connection with the present series of drives is that each is now apparently being made regardless of weather conditions. One good day for airplane observations was enough for the British in this instance to get their ranges, launch their drum fire, drop their barrage and push to the attack through the mud and renewed rainfall.

No Use to Wait.

Military observers in this connection credit the British high command with the belief that it is probably of little use to wait for good weather, at this time of the year in Flanders. Another consideration pointed to is the reported weakening state of the German army morale, an opportunity to be seized with all possible promptitude if the utmost advantage is to be taken of it. There is no indication that the French forces of the British left, which pushed forward approximately a mile to the edge of Houtholst wood in Tuesday's attack, are part of today's advance. Their task for the moment seems to have been completed by the bringing up of their lines to a point where efficient protection would be given the British left flank in the renewal of the wedge-driving process being carried out between Paschendale and Gheluvelt.

The main enemy today was not the Germans, but the mud. The Germans were far less formidable than previously, owing to the disorganization occasioned among them by the recent terrific blows of the British. The correspondent yesterday met Field Marshal Haig, who does not confine himself to headquarters. The field marshal paid the highest tribute to the men for their work in the bad weather.

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS.

London, Oct. 12.—The British troops in Flanders attacked the Germans this morning on a front of about six miles northeast of Ypres. They are reported to be making satisfactory progress. Rain fell heavily during last night. The official report from Field Marshal Haig's headquarters today reads:

"We attacked at 5:25 o'clock this morning on a front of about six miles northeast of Ypres. Our troops are reported to be making satisfactory

BISMARCK BOY BECOMES LIEUTENANT IN THE NAVY

Rapid advancement has come to another Bismarck boy doing his bit for Uncle Sam. Carl L. Hansen, graduated from Annapolis as a midshipman March 23, has been advanced to the rank of lieutenant, with grade dating from July 1, his commission having been confirmed by the United States senate Sept. 23. His father, Charles L. Hansen, pumping engineer for the Bismarck Water Supply Co., gleans this information from the current issue of the Army and Navy Journal. Midshipman Hansen was in Bismarck for a brief visit last spring en route to the Pacific coast to report for duty. Since that time his parents have heard from him only at long intervals, but he has advised them not to worry should they fail to hear from him, as the duty to which he is assigned may keep him away from port two months at a time.

Ohio-Northwestern Game Holds Interest in the Contests of Big Ten

Chicago, Oct. 12.—With practice games out of the way, football eleven of the "big ten" will face the first severe tests of the season in contests to be decided Saturday, Oct. 13. Every member of the Western conference will get into action. Development has been rapid in almost all of the camps, and with the shortage of material generally felt, some close battles are expected.

The greatest interest is attached to the Ohio State-Northwestern game at Columbus, as it will be the first clash between Big Ten teams this year, and the loser will be eliminated from the championship. These two eleven's fought it out for the Western conference championship last fall, and Ohio annexed the honors. The Buckeye team is virtually as strong, if not stronger, this year. Critics believe it will be a certain contender for the title as "Chick" Harley, an all-American selection, is playing with the same dash and speed which characterized his work last fall.

Northwestern, on the contrary, has been seriously weakened as a result of enlistments and injuries. Coach Fred Murphy was forced to build his squad around three or four veterans. Although the Purple team cleaned up on Lake Forest rather easily last Saturday, Murphy is not optimistic concerning the team's chances against Ohio, which, in its two early season games, has displayed high scoring power.

The clash between the University of Chicago and Vanderbilt at Stagg field will be Chicago's first start of the season. Vanderbilt usually has developed a team which made a strong bid for championship honors of the south.

Little news has come from the Chicago camp since practice was started three weeks ago, and the strength of the remarkably youthful squad is unknown. It is regarded as probable, however, that Coach Stagg will start Higgins at fullback, Elton and Rouse in the halfback positions and Chappell or Blocki at quarter. Gorgas probably will play center; Bondzinski and Moulton, guards; Jack and Cochrane at tackle, and Capt. Brelors and McDonald at the ends.

Stagg's team of a year ago was ridiculed by enlistments in military service.

died by enlistments in military service.

Illinois evidently expects to triumph over Oklahoma Saturday for Coach Zupke of the down state university is already shaping his eleven for the all-important game with Wisconsin a week later. The Illini came out of the Kansas game last Saturday without serious injury. Although Zupke anticipates a victory over Oklahoma, he figures on a close contest, as the visiting eleven has been rolling up large scores over its opponents.

The first two games played by Indiana indicate that Coach Stehm has developed a "scrappy" eleven, even with a shortage of material. The players emerged from the Wabash game in fairly good condition and hold no fear of St. Louis university, which is to be the attraction at Bloomington Saturday. The game was called off a week ago and then reinstated after St. Louis decided to go through with its schedule. Halfback Jevre, whose leg was damaged in the clash against Wabash, probably will be held in reserve until the Minnesota game.

Coach Richards of Wisconsin plans to send his heaviest players against Notre Dame Saturday. The Badgers failed to reveal much driving power against Beloit and critics believe defeat faces them unless a stronger attack is developed. Richards drove his charges through bruising scrimmages all week in an effort to overcome apparent weaknesses.

Minnesota will take the field Saturday for the first time this season, meeting South Dakota State at Minneapolis. Although the Gophers lost several stars of last year's squad because of the war, supporters of the eleven look to Coach Henry L. Williams to spring one of the surprises of the season.

Michigan will tackle Mt. Union at Ann Arbor in a game which, critics believe, will go a long way in determining the strength of the Wolverine. Mt. Union always has been capable of giving the men of Yost the stiffest kind of a battle. For the first time in the history of the game at Michigan, the team this year will have no active captain. Decision to this effect was taken in honor of Capt. "Pat" Smith, who is at the Great Lakes naval training station.

The Nebraska eleven, which is picked to win the Missouri Valley conference championship, is looking for no "set-up" in meeting Iowa Saturday. Capt. Davis of the Hawkeyes is playing an unusually brilliant game this season and has been getting wonderful support from Fullback Vonlackum and Halfbacks Hamilton and Peterson. Although a newcomer, Peterson is displaying promising ability as a line plunger.

Coach O'Donnell of the Purdue eleven has warned his players to expect a close game with DePauw.

BOTH CONFIDENT OF WINNING

Chicago, Oct. 12.—The New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox are speeding westward for the fifth game of the world's series, to be played here tomorrow.

Both teams are confident of winning the series, according to the players of both sides, for it is pointed out that neither team has the advantage. The Giants are extremely confident after their two recent victories and all the players declare the series are as good as won.

The White Sox, on the other hand, are equally as confident as to the outcome of the series, and point out that they will regain their batting eye on their home grounds, and with this advantage they claim Cicotte and Russell will hold the Giants in check.

GOVERNMENT TO TAKE OVER SMALL CRAFT

Washington, Oct. 12.—In its requisitioning of ships October 1, the shipping board is considering taking over all American vessels of more than 1,500 tons deadweight capacity instead of 2,500 tons as first announced. The great need of transatlantic tonnage it was said today, made this step necessary.

American ships of more than 1,500 tons capacity available for ocean service number 458, aggregating 2,571,779 tons deadweight. Most of the smaller vessels to be requisitioned will be put into peaceful trade. Many will ply between the United States and South American and West Indian ports, maintaining trades which the government considers essential.

MAYO RETURNS FROM MISSION

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—Admiral Mayo, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, and his staff have returned from England. The purpose of the visit was to permit him to confer with officials of the allied navies to become intimate in every detail of the situation as it is at present, what had been done before and to discuss the plans for the future. The British admiralty extended every courtesy and every facility for the success of this mission.

The statement authorized by Secretary Daniels follows:

Admiral Mayo, U. S. N., and his staff have returned from England. The purpose of the visit was to permit him to confer with officials of the allied navies to become intimate in every detail of the situation as it is at present, what had been done before and to discuss the plans for the future. The British admiralty extended every courtesy and every facility for the success of this mission.

Admiral Mayo will proceed immediately to Washington, and will there make a full report to the secretary of the navy. Admiral Mayo visited the British fleet and our own forces in British and French waters in order that he might familiarize himself with conditions under which the allied forces are operating.

The fact that Admiral Mayo had been sent to England was disclosed to the press at the time of his departure, with the request that the press not mention his trip until an authorized statement was issued. Except in one or two instances, the request was carried out by American newspapers.

MASSACHUSETTS GIRL DRILLS A REAL

dirty job behind the front if not allowed to be actual combatants. "Company A" is no camouflage for a good time.

I found Miss Le Clair today at the home of her mother, 72 Cabot street, busy answering stacks of letters from young women all over New England, and even from Montreal and Quebec, Canada—who want to enlist in this woman's regiment.

Miss Le Clair, who works in the Lawrence Hosiery Mills, was born here. Her parents are French-Canadians, who form a large part of Lowell's population.

She is a well-built, good-natured looking girl, about 5 feet 4 inches in height and weighing about 100 pounds. She is not a "nut," either intellectually or sentimentally.

"What made you start this battalion?" I asked Miss Le Clair.

"Partly from looking at the pictures of the Russian women soldiers," she answered, "and partly from reading of the Women's Military corps in Boston and New York."

When I told her that most of the latter type of organization were merely fashionable fads, Miss Le Clair looked surprised and shocked.

"Well, then," she went on, "then my company is something different. I used to belong to the Blanche de Castille guard, but I got out of that French society business because the girls in it were no really serious and merely wanted to wear a chic military uniform. Then I started this regiment of my own."

"I felt our girls might be of real service in the war if properly trained, so I went to the mayor about it. He liked my plan and gave me a letter to Major Ames in Boston. General Ames was most encouraging, telling me to go ahead and form the company."

BONDS OR BONDAGE—Which?

IF THE Germans should win this war, the fate of your home would be the fate of those of Belgium.

You would have no choice as to what would be done with your money. It would be taken from you by force.

Today your boy, who is prepared to give his life to save your home, is looking to you for the money which will buy the bullets with which he will make his fight.

Buying a Liberty Bond is not giving money to the Government. It is loaning money, every cent of which will be returned to you with interest. Liberty Loan Bonds are backed by all of the resources of the richest government in the world.

The second Liberty Bond issue is for $3,000,000,000. The share of every American family is $150. The Government pays you 4% interest, half of which is payable November 15th and half May 15th of each year. If, before the end of the war, there should be another bond issue at a rate higher than 4%, your bond will pay the higher rate from then on.

All who bought the first Liberty Loan Bonds at 3½% may now convert them into 4% bonds.

Liberty Bonds are as marketable as wheat. You can go to any bank at any time and get your money for them.

Liberty Bonds are in denominations of $50 and up. In this issue all purchases of $5000 or less are tax exempt.

Buy your Liberty Bonds now. October 27th is the last day subscriptions will be received in Washington.

Don't wait for someone to ask you to buy a bond. Go at once to your nearest bank or post office. Your neighbors and your friends are watching you. They are depending upon you to do your share.

"So Long Letty" Best Show Here For Many Years

Sparkling Musical Comedy Delights Large House at the Auditorium

Universally conceded to be the best attraction Bismarck has enjoyed in many years. So Long Letty delighted a large audience at the Auditorium last night with its rapid fire wit, sparkling music and gorgeous costumes. Charlotte Greenwood, in the title role, was the undisputed star of the evening. She is the most eccentric comedienne whom Bismarck has ever had the pleasure of laughing with and her eccentricity is evidenced no more by the sang froid of her delivery than by the remarkable things she does with her several limbs. These members, apparently, are not hinged in the fashion common to ordinary mortals, but are more or less detached giving spectators the impression that she might stand on her head and walk away and leave them with out suffering any sense of loss.

May Boley, a rare talent, another unappreciated bride, was a close second for comedy honors. While Will Morressey as Harry Miller her round er-husband, played near immortal ity. Halbe Manning was a winsome little sprito in an appealing ingenu e part, and Ed Sutherland shared with her some pretty numbers. Sydney Grant as Tony, a Robins played to perfection the part of the subdued husband, made so familiar in "Fair and Warner" and other farces of that family. The chorus was small, but good. The show a real hit.

GOING ON CASH BASIS NOVEMBER 1

Owing to prevailing conditions it has become necessary for us to cut out the credit system of doing business.

The wholesale houses are compelled on account of government license to sell much of their goods for cash—oil and gasoline have been cash for some time and flour virtually so. Meats have always been cash.

Yet on all these articles we have been extending credit to our customers, which credit in many cases has been abused by being allowed to run from sixty to ninety days and some much longer. Instead of being paid in thirty days as expected.

We do not wish to work a hardship upon any, but as self preservation is the first law of nature, it has become necessary for us to either become heavy borrowers or sell for cash, and believing that the cash system is the correct basis for doing business we shall positively extend no credit after November 1.

The credit system of business is largely a habit and like the liquor habit is a bad one, as the more we get the more we want. A customer will buy a great deal more if they can say "charge it," than if they took the money right out and paid for what they bought, the future always looks bright as "distance lends enchantment to the view."

We have many customers that we dislike very much to ask to pay cash, but in justice to ourselves and know-

FOOD LID CLAMPS UPON ALL GROCERS

Wilson in Proclamation to Announce Control Beginning November 1

Washington, Oct. 10.—Government food control will be absolute after Nov. 1.

H. S. Hoover is putting the finishing touches on a proclamation to be issued by President Wilson, licensing dealers in 20 necessities of life.

The slackers in business will be rounded up by the coming executive order.

Regulations will be issued, checking speculations in food-stuffs and preventing hoarding, waste and restriction of output.

Excess Profits to End.

"Unfair and unreasonable" profits will be eliminated.

Among the commodities to be placed under control are flour, bread, meats, potatoes, sugar, dairy products, rice, canned foods and staple vegetables.

Although regulation of retailers is limited by law to those doing a business of $100,000 or more annually, Mr. Hoover expects to exercise indirect control over the smallest corner grocery through his hold on meat packers, cold storage houses, millers, canners, elevators, grain dealers and wholesalers.

All Must Be Licensed.

After Nov. 1 no unlicensed dealer can handle the commodities to be named by Mr. Hoover.

Regular reports from licensed firms will enable the food administration to keep a strong hold on them. A legal department has been created to punish violations and interpret the law. The licensing plan resulted from over 200 conferences held with leaders in all lines of trade and has their approval.

No business factor performing a useful function will be interfered with, according to Mr. Hoover. Elimination of some unnecessary middlemen may result from Mr. Hoover's determination to keep foodstuffs flowing from producers to consumers in direct lines in as economical manner as possible.

ELIMINATING WASTE. TRUE PATRIOTISM GOING TO A CASH BASIS.

Look at the news item from Washington, printed in the column to the left of this notice. No merchant can sell goods at 20 per cent above wholesale cost of goods and carry an overhead expense of 22 per cent to 25 per cent and not go broke. When it comes to only 10 per cent which is the amount allowed on most of the goods sold it is worse yet.

But we are in a war such as never known on this earth before. We must win this war or our life is worthless and our business is worse than slavery or it will perish entirely. So we must save every resource possible to win the war and save the nation. Profits are nothing now. Life is all.

NEW METHODS IN- AUGURATED.

So next Monday we will inaugurate a new plan. We are going to sell goods at a margin so low that it has never been approached.

We are going to eliminate every expense possible. We are going to buy at the lowest margin ever known but to do this we must sell for spot cash.

It takes two dollars now to buy a sack of flour to where it took one before the war. It takes more than double the number of dollars to carry a business—double the capital invested and in order to do business at all we must have cash to purchase from the mills and wholesale houses as the government will not permit them giving the usual time credits, and the banks will extend our notes only one-half the time formerly allowed.

So the business of the country has only one of two choices. Do business on war time methods and save the government all possible or go on old time methods and go broke anyway and probably have no government left to serve.

TRUE PATRIOTISM— PROFITS IN THE TRENCHES.

We believe our customers are patriotic and heroic so we will eliminate every cent possible in the cost of doing business and next Monday go to a cash basis and sell at prices lower than it is possible to do on credit

Ten days ago we stopped advertising and told you then that we had something that we had something to say in our next ads. Now watch for conditions of doing business and prices quoted and you will not only be surprised, but pleased.

To thousands of cash buyers who have never dealt with us we would ask you to come and see our goods get prices and see what cash will do for you.

CORDIAL ENTENTE.

That a cordial entente exists between the New York socialists and the leaders of the Nonpartisan league is indicated by the following paragraphs from The Call, which has contributed $10,000 toward Morris Hillquit's campaign for mayor of New York.

"Good for Townley and the North Dakota farmers. If they are mad, we want to see them off the agricultural lists of all other states and infect them, too. We do not look upon their effort as a competitor or rival of socialism, but a movement converging on the same road, and with the same object—the abolition of the profiteer. They are clear on that point. And while they remain clear on it—and the farmer is anything but a fool—we shall indulge in no envious feelings if they send a score of their representatives to congress before we do. Nor do we care much about the name. While their main object remains the extirpation of the profit system, they are socialists, whatever other name they may call themselves, and are working for the realization of socialism.

"We extend fraternal greetings to the farmers of North Dakota. They are, at last, on the right track, and we sincerely hope they will show the way to millions of other robed and exploited tillers of the soil."

"Save coal!" is a slogan down east. Some of 'em don't favor adding heat less to meatless and wheatless days.

"MAKING ENDS MEET."

Woman-talk in these days is enjoying a respite from its age-old topics of bus and babies, cooks and clothes. It is now almost wholly concerned with knitting for soldiers or food conservation.

Poor Mrs. Housewife is sore beset with the increasing difficulty of performing that famous feat known as "making ends meet" when everybody in the world is busily engaged in pulling them apart. Every day lectures of "she serves beef stew more than twice a week" friend husband says "What! again?"

And every day the grocer sings a new verse of the song entitled "Going Up."

The government tries to help her by fixing prices, and the city by establishing municipal markets, but neither of these assistance seems to have much luck. And the little war game of the producers and who-eat-and-what-eat surveyors of food in laying on all that the traffic will bear goes merrily on.

The American housewife is up against a big problem—and it will not be solved by the ending of the war. It will run right along. Stated in the simplest terms the problem is this—to get more food for less money.

Here's one main fact. Some foods of low cost produce as much human energy as other foods of high cost. The idea is to learn what the low cost work in covering the city hall route.

When it is realized that nearly half of the average family's total income is expended for food, the woman who will not put a little study and energy into learning how to get the best return for her food money must be considered something of a "slacker" at home making.

No one can help the housekeeper as much as she can help herself.

Has-stall editor will now put their world series dope in cold storage. It will keep for a year and come out just as good as ever.

LA FOLLETTE.

With an air of injured innocence, and apparently resting under the delusion that the speech he was making was a historical event, Senator Robert M. La Follette on the last day of the late war session of congress consumed three hours of valuable time in a defense of his course.

He spoke volubly and long about the right of free speech, the duty of congress, and the power of the people. He resented hotly the criticisms and the resolutions that had been hurled at his devoted head. But with the blind fatality that has marked his career for the past three years, he nowhere and in no place met the principal matter in which he offended.

La Follette stands before the nation as one who committed sabotage by trying to throw a monkeywrench into the legislative machinery by which the government sought to avenge German crimes and German insults.

With great dramatic effect La Follette quoted from the speeches of Daniel Webster, Henry Clay, Charles Sumner and Abraham Lincoln, to show how during our Mexican war they demanded that the government state upon what terms it was willing to conclude a peace. But he neglected to say that, stripped of all extraneous matters, the underlying issue of the Mexican adventure was whether slave territory should be extended or not. No wonder men like Lincoln and Webster and Sumner demanded to know what were our aims and what was our goal.

The great question in today's war is whether German militarism shall rule the world, or be crushed. All other questions are futile and of small account beside it. We entered the war to make the world safe for democracy, but if La Follette wants a bill of particulars it is easy to supply it.

Germany assassinated our citizens on the Lusitania and other ships; she attempted to dictate to us how, when and where American ships should sail upon the seas and to what ports they should be bound; she virtually declared war upon us when she sought to have Japan and Mexico set upon us; her ambassador and other agents fomented plots against our industries, sought to blow up our factories and our ships, and filled the land with spies who worked against our republic.

This being so, La Follette renders a sorry service to his state and to the nation when he virtually demands that we make peace before we have even begun to make war.

"He knows, as all men know, why we have gone to war. We have gone to war to avenge certain specific crimes against us, to crush kaiserism and remove its menace from the world. The president has clearly stated we want no annexations and no indemnities for ourselves, but we do want reparation for little Belgium and poor, crushed Serbia. We do want the fetters removed from the small peoples whom the German, the Austrian and the Turk have oppressed.

Until these objects are achieved, we will send our soldiers to France, our navy to the waters where German assassins lurk, our money and our food to those embattled nations that are helping us fight our fight. No confused and bemuddled and wrong-headed senator from Wisconsin, no Townley, or anyone else can cause us to vary from the path of duty and of honor.

Millennium bells will soon be ringing. A Cleveland reporter has been thanked by council resolution for one work in covering the city hall route.

Ordination of Chaplain Markley and Resignation Of Moore Feature Week

Most Impressive Services Mark Full Consecration to Ministry of Methodist Episcopal Church of Fighting Parson—District Superintendent's Farewell

By REV. W. J. HUTCHESON, Pastor of McCabe M. E. Church, Dickinson, N. D., Oct. 12.—The ordination of Chaplain Markley, referred to yesterday, brought the fact of the world war before the Methodist conference as few things could do. It was a most impressive service. People, ministers and chaplain will forever remember the occasion. Deep emotions swelled and surged in every breast. Chaplain Markley goes forth with the consciousness that the whole Methodist church of North Dakota is behind him and with him in the exercise of an intelligent and enthusiastic patriotism.

Thursday morning opened with a great address from Bishop D. J. Cooke, on Paul's prayers. It was a helpful and inspiring address. Men listened with a stillness denoting a high pitch of interest.

Moore Announces Retirement. Great enthusiasm was stirred when Dr. J. G. Moore read his report of the work done on the Bismarck district. It was a splendidly written and well read deliverance. It told of untiring energy rightfully directed. Coming to the close of it the superintendent referred in a touching manner to his work in the state of North Dakota and occasioned surprise by announcing that for health reasons he was retiring from the active work. Few men have done more for North Dakota than Dr. Moore. No man has been so conspicuously before his state and church as Dr. Moore has. Honors—well deserved—have been heaped upon him. In his retirement the church loses its ablest worker. The whole conference stood to manifest its appreciation of the man and his work. Dr. J. G. Moore will long live in the hearts of the ministers and laymen in North Dakota.

Some Called Beyond. Some men have passed to the Great Beyond, notably Revs. S. Newlove, J. G. Dingle and John Sherman. They passed in their earthly accounts to the Great Head of the church. He will deal justly.

Others have found it necessary to ask for a leave of absence in order to recuperate a health shattered by travel, exposure and untiring work. Among these are Revs. C. A. Macnamara and Fred Farrand.

The Missionary Sermon was preached this afternoon by Dr. A. Lincoln Shute. Following this came the presentation of the needs of the conference claimants by Dr. Hingley of Chicago. Dr. Smith of Minneapolis arrived today to speak to the undergraduates at 4 p. m. and the young people of the Epworth league and kindred societies at 8 p. m.

A spirit of good fellowship is abroad. The men are glad to greet one another after a year of toil. The remarks interjected by Bishop Cooke are wonderfully helpful.

The "Queen City of the West" has thrown open its gates to the preachers of the Methodist church.

Dickinson's Hospitality. Dickinson is demonstrating the hospitality of the west. Dr. Hutcheson is the guest of Father Dignam, the Roman Catholic priest.

UNUSUALLY ENJOYABLE "AFTER-THE-SHOW" AT M'KENZIE LAST NIGHT

The "After the Show" at the McKenzie, which has become an institution with Bismarck theatre-goers—as much of an evening's enjoyment of a good show as the show itself—was unusually brilliant last evening. The guests, including a large number of out-of-town folk, and the principals of the "So-Long Letty" cast.

O'Connor's orchestra, which has never played in better form than this season, gave an attractive program of dance numbers and the large dining room and lobby were filled with merry-makers until after 2 o'clock this morning. Miss Greenwood, Miss Doley, Miss Manning, Sidney Grant and others who figured prominently in the successful production of the evening's offering at the Auditorium, made many Bismarck friends, and was a charming evening and most satisfactory climax to the best musical show that has come to Bismarck for many a moon.

Entertain for Son.

Mrs. Myrtle Morgan entertained members of the Baruch class of the First Baptist church last evening at her home in Second street, in honor of the birthday anniversary of her son, Herbert. Twelve members of the class attended and the evening was spent in playing games and enjoying a musical program. The class presented the honor guest with a handsome remembrance. The hostess served refreshments.

Nurses Elect Officers.

Lemons for Complexion

Juice of two lemons made into creamy lotion can be used to bleach, whiten and soften the skin. Make a quarter pint cheaply!

The beauty lotion which is becoming so popular throughout the country is easily prepared by anyone, and a whole quarter pint of it doesn't cost any more than a small jar of the common, ordinary cold creams.

Add the juice of two fresh lemons to three ounces of orchard white and shake well in a bottle. Strain the lemon juice two or three times through a fine cloth so no pulp gets into the lotion, then it will keep fresh for months. Regardless of what price you pay or how highly advertised, there is nothing else really more meritorious in beautifying, softening and clearing the skin. As a tan and blemish remover also to remove freckles and sallowness, lemon juice has no rival. Massage it into the face, neck, and arms once or twice each day, and just see if it doesn't bring out the roses and hidden beauty!

Lemons have always been used to bleach the skin, but pure lemon juice is too highly acid, therefore irritating. Try it! This sweetly fragrant lotion will speak for itself. Any drug store or toilet counter will supply the three ounces of orchard white at very little cost, and the grocer will supply the lemons.

en's Missionary meeting, which was held in connection with the conference.

Miss Caspary of this place has returned from Fargo, where she attended the Schumann-Helk concert. While there she gave a recital in Christine. She was presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses by her former pupils of that place.

S. C. Hendrickson of Grand Forks arrived in the city last evening and is the guest of his mother and sister, Mrs. N. Hendrickson and Mrs. Anna Rogers, of the Rose apartments. Mrs. Anderson of Velva is the guest of Mrs. Henry J. Linde of Avenue A. Mrs. F. E. Galloway of Britton, but formerly of this city, is spending a few days here.

Mrs. S. B. Toney and son of this city, have returned from a visit with Mrs. E. A. Tostevin of Mandan.

Alfred and Knauss Vigness of Hottinger, are in the city visiting their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Vigness of Thayer street. Alfred Vigness was formerly connected with The Tribune.

Philippine Begonias.

The Philippine Islands are very productive of begonias and a California begonia expert is responsible for the statement that of late some 60 species and varieties never known to commerce have of late been found in our far eastern insular possessions. It is feared, however, that all of these need tropical temperatures and, therefore, are only subjects for greenhouse culture.

Pageantry.

Daisies and buttercups gave way to brown, waving grasses, tinged with the warm-red sorrel; the waving grasses are swept away and the meadows lie like emeralds set in the busy hedgerows; the tawny-tipped corn begins to bow with the weight of the full ear; the reapers are bending amongst it and it soon stands in sheaves; then, presently, the patches of yellow stubble lie side by side with streaks of dark red earth, which the plow is turning up in preparation for the new-threshed seed.—George Elliot.

"Blue-Bellied Yankees."

The term "Blue-bellied Yankees" was a slang epithet formerly applied to New England people, perhaps in reference to the so-called "blue laws" of Puritan days. The term "Pennsylvania Dutch" was applied originally to a language, not to a class of people. It was a dialect or patois imported into Pennsylvania from Germany. Gradually the term came to be applied to the people who spoke the language. The so-called Pennsylvania Dutch came from Germany, not Holland.

Parentage and the State.

Parentage rightly undertaken is a service as well as a duty to the world, carrying with it not only obligations but a claim, the strongest of claims, upon the whole community. It must be paid for like any other public service; in any completely civilized state it must be sustained, rewarded and controlled. And this is to be done, not to supersede the love, pride and conscience of the parent, but to supplement, encourage and maintain it.—H. G. Wells.

Tobacco Improves Soil.

It has been calculated that a ton of tobacco withdraws more than a hundredweight of mineral constituents from an acre of land. This would appear to be an astounding waste of material, which must be of enormous value to the soil, considering that 75 per cent consists of calcium and potassium salts and 15 per cent of magnesium and sodium salts, including nearly 5 per cent of the essential constituent to all plants—phosphoric acid.

A Recovery.

Brown—"Is your brother, who was so leafy, a better?" Bridget—"Sure, he'll be all right in the morning." Brown—"You don't say so?" Bridget—"Yes, he was arrested yesterday and gets his leafin' in the morning!"

DROUTH AGENTS BAD ACTORS IS OLDSNESS CLAIM

INSURED WEATHY WITH REPORTS OF FRAME-UP

Write Governor Frazier Asking
Who's Running This Administration Anyway

The hole is ripped off certain state agents for the National Union Fire Insurance Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa., with western offices at Watseka, Minn. In an open letter which Insurance Commissioner S. A. Oldness today addresses to the public in an effort to clear up misunderstandings resulting from this company's "drough insurance" operations in North Dakota.

The commissioner accuses these gentlemen of "damnable practices," among which are misrepresentation, falsification, intimidation and retaliation.

Noting that there has been brought to his attention these practices, Mr. Oldness says in his letter: "The National Fire Insurance Co., a strong, reliable company, with a capital and surplus of $1,750,000, has been writing what is called a special crop insurance policy during the past season under this contract they guarantee the farmer $7 per acre for a premium rate of 10 per cent against any damage except fire, flood and bad husbandry."

Disastrous Losses.

"Owing to the extreme drough over the entire western North Dakota and Montana, this company has disastrous losses to meet, and the question is how to extricate themselves. The company now has a large force of field men on the territory, endeavoring to make settlements, and in this effort some over-zealous adjusters, spurred, no doubt, by an unholy desire to create for themselves undying fame as faithful servants with the company, evidently have resorted to questionable tactics. The chief implements used are two, namely: Threatening to put the farmer in the penitentiary for having obtained his insurance under false representation as to the condition of his crops when taking out his application; second, working on the farmers' sympathy by pleading bankruptcy. These astute agents know that the farmer will yield to these pleadings, because of two reasons: First, out of sympathy, having seen broke or near broke himself so often; secondly, because he feels there is nothing to gain in suing a bankrupt company.

Most Damnable.

"At the most damnable of all their underhanded work is when they go so far as to even tell the claimant, 'I am settling with you on the basis of ten per cent, or by giving back the first premium note, and that it is done according to a fixed understanding with the insurance commissioner. In order to clear the name of the National Union Fire Insurance Co. and also to disprove any charges of there being any possible fixed understanding with the insurance commissioner, I submit the following copy of a telegram sent by myself to the head office at Pittsburgh, Pa., together with excerpts from Mr. Chase's reply."

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Re your message of this morning, can inform you that yesterday told local agent all adjustments must be made on basis of ten per cent regardless merits of claim. Information indicates same method used elsewhere pleading bankruptcy. I insist on immediate explanation, or department will revoke license at once.—S. A. Oldness.

Chase in Denial.

The National Union's reply came through its western attorney, Nathan H. Chase of Minneapolis, who writes under date of October 5: "I desire to most emphatically state that no officer or representative of the National Union Fire Ins. Co. has ever issued such instructions. It was thoroughly and fully understood that no bankruptcy talk was to be made with reference to the National Union as it naturally could not afford that sort of thing; and that when settlements were made on the basis of return premiums, it was to be done because of the fact that adjusters were convinced, by good and sufficient evidence, that the crops were not in good condition at the time the application was made and that the company had consequently been deceived by the applicant."

"Farmers' Administration." "I thought this was a 'farmers' administration.' What's the matter?" wrathfully asks a Coleharbor farmer, in writing Governor Frazier of an adjuster's claims that the plan of settlement he proposed, return of premium or nothing, had been approved by the insurance department.

Other very important letters have come from the vicinity of Wishek, where the adjusters seem to be most active. A conference was held with Commissioner Oldness some time ago, when the insurance men represented that many policies had been obtained through fraud and requested permission to adjust these claims as best they might.

MARKLEY LEAVES FOR CAMP GREENE BERTH

Fighting Chaplain of Second Assigned to 116th Engineers at Charlotte

Lieut. H. C. Markley, chaplain of the former Second North Dakota, and who has been assigned to Camp Greene to the 116th engineers, left last evening for Charlotte, N. C., in response to a wire from Col. Frank White urging him to report at his earliest convenience.

At Dickinson on Wednesday evening, Lieut. Markley received his second ordination in the Methodist Episcopal church at the hands of Bishop Crooke of Minnesota, who has two sons serving in the present struggle. The service was one of the most impressive the conference ever has witnessed. Lieut. Markley received his first ordination at the times town conference in 1914, and he now is a fully ordained minister of the faith.

Lieut. Markley is a sure friend of the Second regiment, but if he does not find himself in a position to personally direct the expenditure of the $1,500 chaplain fund raised for the benefit of the Second, he will see that the money is equitably distributed and that it gets to the various units of the regiment all of which have been retained intact.

Of immense importance to you is the A. W. Lucas advertisement on page 1. Read it and convince your self.

ALIEN WIDOW CANNOT CLAIM EXEMPTIONS IN NORTH DAKOTA ESTATE

Supreme Court Reverses Lower Tribunal and Denies Austrian Woman's Claim

An alien widow is not entitled to exemptions specified by North Dakota statutes, which primarily are for the "protection of the home and the state," rules the supreme court of North Dakota in finding that Magdalena Krumenacker, Austrian widow of Ludwig Krumenacker, who died in Stark county in 1914, cannot collect $1,500 allowed her from her husband's estate by the district court in Stark county. Krumenacker had willed his estate to another Magdalena Krumenacker, widow of his brother Gustav, and through her the property, valued at about $2,000 after the payment of all debts, had descended to her daughter, Katie Stecher, and her four children, all residing in Stark county.

An interesting feature of the case is the fact that the supreme court found that Krumenacker was guilty of bigamy when he married his housekeeper, Margaret Schummer, in Stark county in 1910, after the district court had granted him a divorce from Magdalena. That divorce was not valid, the supreme court rules, because Magdalena did not have notice of the institution against her of proceedings on the grounds of desertion.

Evidence seems to indicate that Ludwig did the deserting, when he left Austria in 1900 for America, after serving a seven months prison sentence for beating his fond Magdalena, who had been his wife since 1887. Had Magdalena been an American she could have collected her $1,500 exemptions as Ludwig's only legal widow, even had his second wife not preceded him to the grave.
